Nurturing Hearts and Minds

Worship Reflection

There are different things to see and do at bus and train stations. Many of these things are useful and make our journeys easier.

God Our Father,

Let us reflect on our lifestyle, especially during these moments of health, social and environmental crisis. Help us to take the opportunity to reflect on the way we eat, consume and travel. Help us to think about how we use water, energy, plastics, and many other material goods, especially those which are harmful to the environment. Help us choose to change! Let us advance towards lifestyles that are simpler and more respectful of the environment.

Amen.

Medicines.

If you would like us to administer medicine to your child during the school day we will need the medical consent form completing by a parent / carer. Please could you ensure that you are handing any medicine to an adult in school and not sending it in via your child.

This week's gospel is when Jesus explained how eternal life is hard if we have too much money and do not share it. (Ask your children where the eye of the needle was.) I know many of you reading this will do so with a wry smile as you struggle to make ends meet week to week. Please make sure you have enough before you give to others.

If you have spare then you will have the opportunity to share next Friday with our Brighten Up and Go Green for CAFOD day. Monetary donations will go to CAFOD and foodbank donations to Penwortham Foodbank. The use of foodbanks is still very high and the people who use them are very appreciative. Please see the letter that Mrs Woosey sent on Monday for more details.

On Tuesday Year 5 and 6 were inspired by Andy Grant. What a man! Despite losing his mother at 12 he became a marine commando but was blown up by a landmine in Afghanistan in 2009 aged 22. Against the odds he has become a father, climbed mountains, plays football and is the world record holder for a 10km on one leg. Andy is a wonderful testament to a positive mindset, determination and hard work. We could have listened to him all day. He had some great messages for the children, please ask them about it. Mr Hughes and I were quite star struck as we have been following him for a while. You can see a picture on the school app or on the website. You can follow him on Instagram under andygbootneck. We are very grateful to the archdiocese for organising this opportunity for us.

Well done to the many helpful children who have been working hard at helping at school, I hope they have been helping at home too. Next week we are focussing on working hard. I think staff members may well get a note home or an email.

Have a good weekend, Mrs Gallagher
